Purpose and scope

This Call for Expression of Interest, issued by UNFPA, seeks to strengthen institutional policies, systems, capacities and action for the prevention of and response to gender-based violence (GBV). Its geographic focus is Latin America and the Caribbean. Named country outputs include Peru, Guatemala, Dominican Republic and Honduras.

The work uses quality, survivor-centred and multisectoral approaches, with gender, intersectional and humanitarian-development-peace approaches. The aim is to strengthen GBV prevention and response across the region.

Funding

The indicative budget is USD 210,000 for 2027–2029. After partner selection, the amount will be formalized in an annual work plan.

Who can apply

The applicant route is an organisation or consortium with regional technical capacity to support UNFPA LACRO and country offices.

This route applies to an organisation or consortium. Its proposed support is to ensure quality, survivor-centred practice, multisectoral coordination, and gender, nexus and intersectionality approaches.

Priorities

The programme focus is to prevent and respond to all forms of GBV and harmful practices through stronger systems and institutions, survivor-centred services, multisectoral coordination, and policy and normative frameworks.

Fortalecimiento de capacidades institucionales en la respuesta a la Violencia basada en Género en ALC

Partners must prepare tailored technical-assistance proposals for Peru, Guatemala, Dominican Republic and Honduras to strengthen public GBV prevention and response policies. They must train 30 public officials per country, 120 in total, in survivor-centred practice, case management, intersectionality and the humanitarian-development-peace nexus.

For Latin America and the Caribbean, partners must provide specialised technical assistance for at least one tool or mechanism per prioritised country, targeting five tools in total, stated as one per country. Support must address interinstitutional coordination, intersectionality, referral pathways, service-quality monitoring and follow-up, and sectoral GBV emergency-preparedness plans according to country need and priority.
