Purpose and scope

WFP's programme focuses on integrated humanitarian food and nutrition assistance and context-appropriate early recovery for crisis-affected populations in South Sudan, prioritising famine prevention and life-saving support.

Priorities

Geographic priority is given first to areas at risk of famine under worst-case scenarios, then to IPC AFI Phase 4 areas with populations in Phase 5, followed by IPC AFI Phase 4 areas classified in IPC AMN Phase 5 and those with successively lower AMN classifications. Within each band, the prevalence of IPC Phase 4 populations guides further prioritisation; IPC Phase 3 areas are considered after higher-priority needs.

In prioritised counties, household targeting gives precedence to households facing IPC Phase 4 or 5 conditions, considering severe food-consumption gaps, acute nutrition risks, displacement and compounding vulnerabilities. The call prioritises efforts to include refugees, internally displaced persons, returnees and vulnerable host communities according to assessed need; displacement status alone is not a basis for inclusion. Particular attention is given to female-headed households and people facing gender-related, disability or protection risks, in accordance with humanity, impartiality, neutrality and independence.
